Chinese Are Smashed in Battle of the Great Wall

Japanese Assert Fleeing Enemy Is Tearing Up Rails

Bitter Fight in Nankow Pass Apparently Won by the Japs

NANKOW CITY AFIRE

Shanghai Paralyzed by Score of Jap Warships in River

TOKYO, Japan.—(AP)—Flames lighted the ramparts of the Great Wall of China, Japanese dispatches said Wednesday night (Oriental time) after a Sino-Japanese battle at ancient Nankow Pass which resulted in rout for the troops of China's central army.

A heavy Japanese artillery bombardment set Nankow City afire, said the advices.

After sharp fighting with considerable losses to both sides the Chinese troops were reported to have fled northward, tearing up the tracks of the Peking-Suiyuan railroad as they went, to hinder the Japanese advance.

The railroad runs through Nankow. In the meantime, Japan choked Shanghai's Whangpoo river with a score of warships, scattered others to the mouth of the Yangtze, and poured between 500 and 1,000 blue-jackets into Shanghai.

Unconfirmed reports said two Japanese aircraft carriers were waiting beyond the Woosung forts, which lie at the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze.

Japs Deny Defeat
TIENTSIN, China.—(AP)—Action in the undeclared war in North China shifted Tuesday to the entrance to the mountains northwest of Peiping.

Unconfirmed Chinese reports said a Japanese army detachment had been annihilated in a fight in the vicinity of Nankow Pass, 30 miles northwest of Peiping.

Japanese officials here said that the action was limited to slight skirmishing. They said that Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, Nanking government premier, had ordered the Chinese holding the Great Wall pass at Nankow to attack Japanese forces in the area. They said that the Chinese troops feared Japanese aerial bombardments, however, and engaged only in small skirmishes.

Japanese Have Difficulty
Japanese officials indicated that a full of two weeks may be expected in the region. This was believed due to difficulties of getting reinforcements into China because of washed-out railways and other broken communications.

However, a spokesman, declaring that the Japanese did not plan at present to push through the Great Wall, warned that his countrymen would strike swiftly if the Chinese made a concerted attack.

Control Tightened
Japanese tightened their control over Peiping and Tientsin and commercial communication with the outside world came to a virtual standstill.

Peiping's radio and telegraph stations were in Japanese hands but the location of Tientsin's wireless and postal offices in the French and British concessions hindered direct action here. The Japanese, however, control all Tientsin approaches.

Dispatches received in Nanking said the Japanese planned to install plainclothes military censors at Postoffices in British and French concessions in Tientsin. They indicated the censorship would not apply to foreign consular telegraph and mail dispatches and as far as foreign residents were concerned would be used only in "suspicious cases."

British and French authorities were reported to have made heated protests.

Propaganda Used
A drive designed to alienate the Chinese from the Nanking government was seen in the appearance of posters and handbills.

Some proclaimed: "The Japanese army is the world's best and strongest."

"The Central (Nanking) government will never fight Japan and is now only deceiving the Northern Chinese."

"The Japanese army is only helping the Northern Chinese."

"North China is safe forever."

"North China people must build their own country on a firm foundation."

Through arrangements with various motion picture distributing companies, Dr. R. E. Bailey of the department of foreign languages has obtained talking pictures from Spain, Germany, France and Italy.

Both Jap and Chinese Chiefs Have Intimate Ties With U.S.

Fumimaro Konoye

Chiang Kai-shek

Konoye's Son, Chiang's Wife Strong Links to America

By NEA Service

As China and Japan teeter on the edge of a disastrous war, each looks for leadership to a "strong man." And each of those "strong men" has intimate and compelling ties with the United States.

The wife of Chiang Kai-shek, the man under whose military leadership all China may at last be united, is American-educated at Wellesley, and has many friends and connections in the United States. And the son of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, premier of Japan, who steers that empire in its present critical course, studied at Lawrenceville School in New Jersey and is now a junior at Princeton and captain of the college golf team.

Both leaders were consciously advanced as proteges of leaders who preceded them. Chiang Kai-shek was favored by Sun Yat Sen, "China's George Washington," as a possible successor, and Konoye was similarly taught and brought forward by Prince Saionji, the last of the Genro or Elder Statesmen of Japan.

Konoye of Japan Inherited Chiang Veteran in Fight for a 'New China'

By NEA Service

Prince Fumimaro Konoye, at 45 the youngest but one of all Japan's premiers, faces a tough job, for which he has had every possible preparation. He has family, position, education, training, the highest sponsorship, every advantage that could go to the conscious making of a leader.

Born of the Fujiwara line, for centuries close advisers of the emperor, Konoye became the head of his own distinguished family at 13. When a student at Kyoto Imperial University, he followed his father's precedent in seeking the advice and guidance of Prince Saionji, last of the Genro or Elder Statesmen.

In 1919 he accompanied that statesman as one of his staff at the Versailles peace conference. He married Chiyo-ko, daughter of Viscount Takanori Mori.

Made 'Good-Will' Tour to U. S.
At 30, Konoye was automatically elected to the House of Peers, and his activity and energy won him election as its head, a position held by his father before the Russo-Japanese war.

Konoye has always been interested in the United States, and in 1934 came to this country on a "good-will mission" as well as to visit his son Fumihiko, then a student at Lawrenceville School in New Jersey. Konoye's attractive personality won him many friends in the United States during that visit.

Ever since the military revolt of 1932 there has been pronounced political unrest in Japan, and it has been generally believed that the aging Prince Saionji had been watching a parade of premiers go by in succession, waiting for the proper time to produce his "ace" and protégé, Konoye.

Faces Internal Problems
Aside from the critical situation in China, into which the Japanese plunged more deeply immediately after his becoming premier early in June of this year, Konoye faces the difficult internal problem of reconciling the civil and military parties of Japan, and of achieving such economic reforms as will allay widespread discontent.

Taller than most Japanese, distinctly handsome, youthful-looking and well informed on modern trends in today's world, Konoye weighs less than 150 pounds, and suffers from insomnia. His wife "rules me with a hand of iron," he once said, referring to her vigilant supervision over his diet. Konoye has already followed the Rooseveltian technique of direct and simple appeals to his people by radio, asking national unity.

Konoye is the first Japanese premier to take that office without previous service in the cabinet, and thus in a sense he "starts at the top." His wide travels and interests are reflected in his presidency of the International Cultural Relations Society.

The accordion, smallest member of the organ family, produces the greatest volume of sound, for its size, of any musical instrument.

Chiang Kai-shek, China's "strong man," is today its president, its chief active military leader, virtually its dictator, though he dislikes the term and its implications.

Not quite 50 years old, Chiang has been a military man since the age of 18. He was born of a substantial middle-class family 100 miles south of Shanghai, and was schooled in the Chinese classics.

After a year in the Paoting Military Academy, Chiang was sent to Japan, where for years he studied at the Tokyo Military Academy.

Leader in China's Revolution
Returning to China in 1911, he threw his lot in with the revolutionaries who were driving out the last of the Manchurian emperors. Chiang became very close to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, "China's George Washington," serving as his secretary and confidential aide. During the somewhat shaky Sun Yat Sen republic, Chiang set up as a foreign exchange broker, and is supposed to have made a great deal of money, much of which sustained the republican cause. About 1923, Dr. Sun became interested in the Russian Revolution, and sent Chiang to Russia to study the Red army, the army schools, and Communism generally.

On his return Chiang headed the Whangpoo Military Academy, and thus gained a personal following, much of which is still loyal to him. When Dr. Sun died in 1925, his regime would have fallen apart, except that Chiang promptly set up the Kuomintang revolutionary government with Russian help. For years prior to the formation of the present Nanking government, Chiang was regarded as practically a Communist. But he broke with most of his Russian and Chinese Communist associates and conducted a long and bitter war against them.

Builds United Defense
During the earlier Japanese invasions of Manchuria, Chiang remained aloof, continuing to foster his Chinese Nationalism doctrines which are now beginning to bear fruit in increasing demands for a united resistance to Japan. Some sort of a deal with the Chinese Communists for united action against Japan seems to have been reached.

Chiang has never been in the western world, speaks almost no English. His wife, Mei-Ling Soong, Wellesley graduate whom he married in 1927, serves as his link to western culture. Daughter of one of China's ablest and most distinguished families, Miss Soong converted Chiang to Christianity and has been of the greatest service to him in his development. Though now regarded as very wealthy, Chiang puts on none of the "front" assumed by many Chinese military leaders. He talks little, is restless and keen, ruthless when necessary and when he has the power, yet diplomat enough to have stayed longer at the top of the confused Chinese situation than any other modern leader.

12-Cent Loan on Cotton Proposed, But With Control

Byrnes Would Have Farmers Agree to Control in 1938

COURT FIGHT ENDS

Bill to White House, With F. D.'s Ideas Cut Out of It

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat, said Wednesday he had proposed to President Roosevelt, as a solution to the controversy over crop loans and farm legislation, a guarantee to the farmers of a 12-cent price provided they agreed to co-operate with any crop control legislation enacted at the next session of congress.

The senate agriculture subcommittee approved a bill to provide mandatory 10-cent cotton loans on the current crop.

The house Wednesday ended this session's bitter court controversy by approving the lower-court-procedure bill and sending it to the White House.

A quorum call, insisted upon by Representative Fish, New York Republican, brought 387 of the 432 members to the floor.

Deleted from the measure were President Roosevelt's recommendations relating to the supreme court.

Debate Rail Rate Change on Cotton

Mileage Scale Wouldn't Benefit Producers, Shippers Say

LITTLE ROCK.—Adoption of a mileage scale of rail rates for intrastate shipping of uncompressed cotton would not benefit cotton producers, but, it would drive small cotton buyers and compressors out of business, several bankers, shippers and cotton brokers testified Tuesday before the Arkansas Corporation Commission.

The testimony was given at a hearing on a petition of the Ouachita Valley Association, the Camden Chamber of Commerce and the El Dorado Chamber of Commerce seeking rate reductions on the shipping of uncompressed cotton between all points in Arkansas.

Under existing tariff schedules, advertisements are allowed on shipments to concentration points for reshipment by rail to out-of-state destinations. If for any reason, reshipment does not occur, the cost of the original shipping into the point of concentration often times amounts to as much as four times the cost if reshipment is ordered.

Cotton buyers and shippers alike testified that freight rates have almost nothing to do with the price a producer receives for his cotton.

The commission is expected to take the matter under advisement after completion of testimony Wednesday.

J. D. Trimble Is Repaid for Erroneous Taxes

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The State Claims Commission reimbursed J. D. Trimble of Hope Wednesday with $57.68 as the state's portion of taxes erroneously paid by him last year.

'Stepping Stone' in Film Romance

There must be rhythm in romance from the way Paula Stone, film actress, and George Walker Mason, Hollywood night club operator, are swinging along here in step with announcement of their plans to marry. Red-haired, green-eyed Paula, also noted as a dancer, thus provides another surprise not only for the film colony but also for her father, Fred Stone, movie comedian. She handed Hollywood its first "eye-opener" when she shunned screen tests "because they are such horrible things," and then jumped right into feature roles.

Hammond Becomes Legion's Chaplain

Hope Man Chosen, and Bob Sisson Elected State Commander

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—The Arkansas Department of the American Legion elected the Rev. Vernon A. Hammond, pastor of First Christian church of Hope, as chaplain Wednesday at the conclusion of its annual convention.

Bob Sisson, Little Rock, was elected department commander, and Texarkana was unanimously selected as the 1938 convention city.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—What is believed to have been the largest crowd ever to witness a marriage ceremony in Arkansas was present Tuesday afternoon when Legionnaire Wilfred Whitworth and Miss Essie Davidson, Harrison, were married by the Rev. W. Sullivan, Monticello, past chaplain of the Arkansas Department, American Legion.

The ceremony climaxed a social program that embellished the 19th annual convention of Arkansas's former "doughboys" and the State Auxiliary. It took place beneath a huge magnolia tree on the lawn of the Eastman Hotel.

An altar had been erected and the natural beauty of the lawn was enhanced further with a profusion of large potted plants, palms and ferns. Few couples have gone to the altar under more auspicious surroundings.

Chiropractic Doctors Move Here From Gurdon

They have two sons. The eldest expects to become a member of the Hope Boys band.

County Leads in Canning Fruits

49,281 Quarts of Fruits, Vegetables Canned Up to July 1

Mrs. O. B. Hodnett, Supervisor, Re-Settlement Administration, Hempstead county, has been advised by her District Home Supervisor, Mrs. Mary Nichols Enloe, that Hempstead county is leading the entire state in the number of quarts of fruits and vegetables canned per family, according to information given by Mrs. Ruffin White, the women member of the Hempstead county advisory committee.

The canning figures are as follows: No. of families on program—157. No. of persons on program—801. Amount that they have canned up to last report which was July 1—49,281. No. of quarts per family—136.

The goal for canning in this county for this year is 105,000 quarts.

Mrs. Hodnett believes that this will easily be reached since there were 49,281 quarts canned up to July 1 and there are still fruits and vegetables to can. The August 1st report is expected to be 90,000 quarts.

Conway was the hottest point in the state Tuesday with a reading of 111 degrees, one degree higher than the reading there Monday.

Pine Bluff, Prescott and DeQueen had 104-degrees late Tuesday while Nashville and Texarkana reported 103. Arkadelphia had unofficial readings from 103 to 110 degrees.

The weather man forecast thunder showers for western Arkansas Wednesday afternoon and night.

By the Associated Press
Thunder-showers in some states, driving rains in others, brought a measure of relief Wednesday from enervating heat, but the country generally still fretted in discomfort.

Rain cooled parts of Indiana, New York state, Georgia and Florida.

The Middle West generally was fair, with a prediction of thunder-showers and cooler weather for the Chicago area, and continuing high temperatures and clear skies in the states farther south.

Women's Groups Open Encampment

Home Demonstration Clubs Gather Annually at Camp Pike

LITTLE ROCK.—The fifth annual encampment of the State Council of Home Demonstration Clubs opened at Camp Pike Tuesday with about 950 women from all counties in attendance as representatives of 44,880 Arkansas farm women who are members of 1,747 home demonstration clubs. At 6 p. m. delegates from all counties had arrived—a record hitherto unequalled for prompt and early arrival—and a small additional delegation is expected Wednesday. Quotas allotted all counties provided for 1,200 campers, but last-minute cancellations resulted from prevalence of infantile paralysis in some sections of the state. Representatives attending the camp are chosen on the basis of individual accomplishment and club work, and designation as a delegate is a reward for outstanding work in the organization.

The first open season, held Tuesday night on the lawn of the officers' mess hall, was opened with a brief program and concluded with a serenade of old-fashioned songs. The lawn was lighted with 75 Japanese lanterns made and contributed for the occasion by the state's county home demonstration councils, and music was provided by Miss Juanita Wago of Little Rock, accordion soloist.

To Cap Empire State TOKYO.—(AP)—Japan wants to build a shaft higher than the Empire State Building or the Eiffel Tower but Tokyo's building ordinance limits the height of structures to 100 feet and besides, no building in Tokyo is permitted to rise higher than the Imperial Palace. (That would make it impossible for ordinary mortals to look down on the emperor.) Promoters hope to get a dispensation to rear a 1,312-foot cylindrical shaft in the waters of Tokyo Bay for the Japanese International Exposition. It would be built of a light alloy, have a staircase and elevator inside its mural-decorated walls.

Radio and a beacon light, planned to cap the edifice, would, it is pointed out, be important in connection with aviation and air defense.

THEATERS

At the Saenger

One of the year's outstanding productions, "The Road Back," comes to the Saenger Thursday and Friday. The screen story is taken from Erich Maria Remarque's novel of the same name which caused a furore in Europe and in this country when it was published in 1931. Because of the revelations in the novel, Remarque was compelled to leave Germany.

"The Road Back" tells the dramatic adventures of the soldiers who returned home after the war; of the wives who waited and of the sweethearts who forgot their promises. It relates the unrest of a whole people, starved for four years, who began with food riots and finished with revolution.

"The Road Back" starts with Armistice Day, when the whole world begins dreaming of peace. It shows the loves and pealousies, hates and struggles in a land aflame with unrest.

You Must Experiment

The experimental method is the only one to use, says Miss Muriel Cox of Boston, who has given advice on clothing to hundreds of student stylists and department store executives.

She carries a huge bag of sample materials around with her, and trots them out whenever anyone asks, "What colors should I wear?"

But before she takes up cloth colors, she tests the color of the questioner's skin by holding against her forehead a card with a peephole cut in it. Your forehead gives your true skin color—"background color," Miss Cox calls it. Cheeks are "foreground color," and shouldn't be considered when buying clothes.

With the aid of the peephole, an amateur can see what color predominates in her skin—pink, purple, yellow or brown.

The skin is the most important detail to consider when picking clothes. Hair and eyes rank second, says Miss Cox. But she makes two exceptions:

If you have blue or blue-green eyes—in which case play them up.

If you have red hair—in which case you must think of it first.

Some Conclusions

Here are some of Miss Cox's conclusions: Many persons wear colors that are too obvious, such as bright red, for instance, which separates the foreground from the background. Try blended colors, peach or dull blue, instead.

Green is the most flattering color. It brings out the pink in the skin. Navy blue, contrary to salesgirls who swear you look best in blue, is dangerous. Only women with lots of pink in their skin should attempt it.

Women with dark hair and eyes can safely essay strong colors, play up the contrast. Others should try to match the skin, rather than to contrast it.

Women with pink in their skins can wear a greater variety of colors than women with skins of yellow or tan pigmentation. But—here's the catch—they don't look so well as the yellows and tans who wear fewer colors, but with more dash.

Owners of curly hair should stick to dark or dull colors, preferably grays and green-blues. They need to tone down their fiery hair.

Watch Your Make-up Red-haired people, by the way, are the easiest to dress or the most difficult, depending on their pigmentation. A pink skin with red hair is particularly difficult, and calls for more subtle colors than does the white-skin-red-hair combination.

Clothes colors can't be forgotten when it comes to make-up, either, says Miss Cox. Rouge must harmonize with the skin. Lipstick must harmonize with the colors you wear.

But if you wear the right colors, there'll be no clash between lipstick and skin.

At the New

Columbia's "Two-Fisted Gentleman," a fast-moving comedy-romance revolving about the misadventures of a palooka pugilist and his manager-wife, will be featured on the New theater screen as the main attraction starting Thursday, Jimmy Dunn and the beautiful June Clayworth are cast in the leading roles with George McKay and Thurston Hall in support.

"Two-Fisted Gentleman," an original screen play by Tom Van Dyke, directed by Gordon Wiles, is the story of Mickey Blake, played by Jimmy Dunn, who rises from bar-room bouts to the position as chief contender for the middleweight crown, due mainly to the conscientious tutoring of his ring-wise wife, the attractive Miss Clayworth.

Rising quickly to the top, Dunn's head is turned by a pretty debutante whom he meets when he boxes at a charity bout on her Long Island estate. Convinced that he is too handsome to have his features mauled in the ring, Dunn refuses to fight the tough battlers, insisting on taking on third-raters.

Disgusted with him, Ginger his wife, calls him yellow. They quarrel and separate. Without her guidance, Dunn slumps back in the fight profession until he's broke, discouraged and spiritless. Meanwhile his wife has provided herself a capable fight manager and is working as a director of a successful gymnasium.

Ginger determines to help Dunn in his fight to come back and from there on the story roars to a thrill-packed climax. Comedy is intermingled with thrills and drama in "Two-Fisted Gentleman" to provide a top-flight picture.

Athletics Enlisted Against Tuberculosis

NANKING.—(AP)—In an effort to cut China's annual tuberculosis death rate of 1,600,000, welfare organizations here have embarked on a spectacular campaign. Exhibitions, posters and newspaper ads are being used.

Since 6 per cent of the nation's 400,000 high school students suffer from the white plague, the education ministry, as its share in the campaign, has instituted a program of compulsory athletics. Excessive indoor study has fostered the disease, officials believe. They have ordered all schools closed at 3 p. m.

Chinese high school require more than twice as many hours of classes as American schools.

DANVILLE, Ill. — (AP) — The Fred Kemna family eats, sleeps and pays taxes in Illinois and Indiana.

All of which sounds like a headache, but there isn't much to do about it because the 96-acre Kemna farm between here and Perryville, Ind., is divided by the state line.

Parts of the living room, kitchen and sleeping quarters are in Indiana, the rest in Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Kemna and their son, Richard, sleep in Indiana; Marietta, the daughter, sleeps in Illinois.

Chinese Scrap Iron Guarded From Japan

AMOI, China.—(AP)—China has succumbed to the scrap iron collecting vogue. A sixteen day period has been set aside in Amoy during which time each resident is supposed to collect and turn in all iron and copper scrap he can lay hands on.

The Chinese believe that Japan is buying scrap iron in China for rearmament. Although the export of iron has been banned, the Japanese are reported to be buying iron in China, sending it to Taiwan or Hongkong and transshipping it to Japan.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—More railroad mileage is operated in Texas than in any other state, the Association of American Railroads reports. Illinois ranks second.

The association computes that railroads paid $873,641 daily in 1936 to meet their taxes from federal, state and local governments.

Miller Asks for Primary Election

Governor Bailey's Office Declines to Comment on Challenge

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Congressman John E. Miller, Democratic convention nominee for the United States senate seat, Wednesday afternoon asked Governor Carl E. Bailey, State Democratic Committee nominee, for a party primary in which their contest might be settled in advance of the special general election.

Governor Bailey's office declined immediate comment.

During the reign of Edward I (1272 A. D.), many English people shunned food cooked over a coal fire, as it was believed that coal smoke poisoned the air.

STORIES IN STAMPS

City Without A Country

NORTH SEA
CITY OF DANZIG

Will Danzig be next? That is one of the delicate diplomatic questions Europe ponders these days as it watches the Nazi influence operating in the Free City of Danzig. Europe has not forgotten the Rhineland or the Saar.

Admittedly the Nazi power is being felt today in little Danzig, which before the World War was one of Germany's many ports on the Baltic. Leading Danzig officials have repudiated the control of the League of Nations and the rise of the National Socialists portends a possible Hitler victory. Chief factor in the trend has been the predominance of German population in the city. Nazis claim that 95 per cent of the population are German, and point out that Danzig, like the Saar and Memel, has been arbitrarily cut off from the motherland.

Danzig became a free city through the Treaty of Versailles. The Poles wanted the city for politico-economic reasons, basing their claim on President Wilson's promise of "free access to the sea." But when the Poles got access to Danzig they quarreled with the native residents. Later the Poles built Gdynia, an adjacent port, on their own soil. So today Danzig is left dangling. The question is, will Hitler take over the city? A Danzig charity stamp is shown here, of current issue.

British Rearmament

MILAN, Italy.—(AP)—Great Britain's rearmament program willingly or unwillingly is squeezing Italy industrially through producing a scarcity of heavy raw materials, business circles say.

By buying up all the available steel and several other primary products on the world markets, Britain is throwing Italian manufacturers into some embarrassment and is causing Mussolini's government to take steps to alleviate the situation.

A ministerial decree has just been issued to restrict building operations because of the "desirability of limiting the use of iron to quantities strictly necessary."

Manufacturers are particularly uncertain over the situation because they know that the military needs of the nation have first call on raw materials. The fascist Grand Council declared on March 2, with regard to raw materials, the principle of "sacrifice, even total if necessary, of the civil requirements for the military requirements."

At Azizia, in the northern African desert, the thermometer registered 134.4 degrees in the shade on September 13, 1922.

Fight Program to Be Held Thursday

Cargile Will Be in Main Event—Preacher Walker on Program

Three of the boys who carried knock-out punches last week will appear again Thursday night on the South Walnut street all-fight program.

Hugh Carson, who knocked out Dalton Hulse of Washington in the second of a scheduled three-round fight last week, will appear against Jesse Grice of the Alton CCC camp.

Pinkie Curran, negro fighter who scored a K. O. last Thursday, meets Lanny Jackson, Sheppard negro in a four-round bout.

Chester Yerger, Jr., negro, meets Claude Woods of Lost Prairie in a three-round scrap.

The four-round semi-final will feature Preacher Walker of Hope and Kid Biffin of New Orleans. Both are negroes. Walker has appeared in exhibition fights here twice this season and was impressive in both battles.

The main event will be between Tootsie Cargile of Hope and an opponent to be announced Thursday afternoon. Two fighters have asked to meet Cargile, one from the Alton camp and the other from Nashville. It had not been decided Wednesday which would be selected to meet Cargile.

Blondy Ryan Has New Way to Run the Bases

NEW YORK. (AP)—John (Blondy) Ryan has returned to the New York Giants, leaving at Milwaukee the memory of one of the most unorthodox plays ever pulled in baseball.

Shortly before Ryan left Milwaukee, he played in a game at Minneapolis. Opening the fifth inning with a sharp hit to center, Ryan tried to stretch it into a double.

Red Kress, Minneapolis shortstop, received the throw from the outfield in ample time to tag out Ryan. Ryan fooled him by stopping a few feet short of the bag, turning, and starting for third. After three or four steps he "reversed his field," and started back for second. But he did not touch the bag, cutting inside of it and dashing back to first.

Kress was too befuddled to do anything. Umpire Jim Tobin called Ryan safe at first, explaining he had not touched second and therefore was not guilty of running the bases in reverse order.

Strong, Silent Men Meet Again

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (NEA)—Jim Braddock, an invited guest at Joe Louis workout here, saw the young negro who took the title from him for the first time since their Chicago fight, June 22.

Louis, standing on the lawn when Braddock arrived in an automobile, ambled over, and Braddock yelled: "Hello, Sailor." The sailor was put in because the champion was wearing a sailor's blouse and hat.

Braddock climbed out and they shook hands. "How are you, Jim?" drawled Louis. "Fine. How are you?" replied Braddock.

A long silence followed. You could almost see the commotion inside their skulls as they tried to think of something to say.

Detectives were questioning a negro charged with stealing a typewriter. Not getting anywhere, one of the officers brought in the machine. "Lawzee, man," the negro exclaimed. "You calls that a typewriter? Ah, thought it was a cash register as was stealin'."

Travelers Win 2 From Nashville

Double Victory Gives Little Rock 1 1/2 Game Lead

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Doc Prothro's Trucking Travelers knocked the wind out of the second-place Nashville Vols by winning a double-header before a crowd estimated at 10,000 here Tuesday night. The scores were 20 to 1 and 4 to 2. The second game was called at the end of the sixth inning in compliance with the Southern Association midnight closing rule.

The Travelers were terrific in the first game, slamming a trio of Vol pitchers for 20 hits. Ray Starr started and was routed in the sixth. Frank Werk followed and was sent to the showers before the inning was completed. Bill Crouch finished. Although the Nashville pitchers were ineffective, the seven Nashville errors didn't help their efforts.

"Lefty Lee" Rogers held the Vols to seven hits in the opener for his 12th victory of the season. Rogers' only shaky inning was in the third when the Vols bunched their hits to score their only run. Rogers tried to perform an "iron man" role but weakened in the fourth inning of the second game. Emerson Dickman relieved Rogers and stopped the Vols cold.

Little Rock's second victory was a thriller. Blanked for five innings and trailing two runs, the Travelers hopped on Lefthanded Woodrow Johnson and Lin Watkins for four hits and four runs and win the ball game. Ray Thompson's single with the bases full drove in Fred Tauby and Art Graham with the winning runs.

The twin triumph gave the Travelers a 1 1/2 game advantage in the Southern Association race, the longest they have enjoyed this season.

The clubs continue the series with one game at 8:15 Wednesday night.

McClure received sparkling support from his mates and allowed only two Tribesmen to reach second base. Jack Calvey clouted a homer for the Smokies.

These Two Pitchers Had a Busy Time

TOPSKA, Kas.—(AP)—It was a big day for pitchers in the Ban Johnson league.

George Holmes, Chanute tosser, struck out 20 men while pitching 20 innings of baseball. He blanked the Eureka club, 13-0, in the first half of a twin bill but dropped the night-cap, 6-4, after 11 innings. Holmes was the first pitcher in the history of the league to work more than 18 innings in one day.

Minnie Horn, Topeka hurler, stole the show when he shut out Kansas City, 8-0. During the course of the afternoon he fanned 12, issued no passes and hit a home run with all bases occupied.

Why Texas Gridders Grow Big and Tough

ABILENE, Tex.—(AP)—This is where the "toughest" football players are produced.

The reason: Jobs the gridders hold during the summer.

A checkup of players from four Texas colleges showed the following were to forsake their "professions" to follow the pigskin:

Two ice men.
Fifteen oil field employees.

Five members of pipe line and refinery crews.
Twelve farmers.
One cowboy.
Two grain elevator workers.
One oil truck driver.
Eight laborers engaged in building construction.
One telephone lineman.

The little star known as "40 Erdani" is made up of an element so dense that one pint of the substance would weigh several tons.

Cecil Travis May Pace A. L. Hitters

Former Chattanooga Player Near Top in American League

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—It's possible that a shortstop again may lead the American league at bat this season.

A year ago Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox breezed in ahead to become the first short fielder in the league's history to win the hitting crown.

Appling is finding hits scarcer these days but another shortstop, gangling Cecil Travis of Washington's Senators, may beat out the Yankees' Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio for slugging honors.

Travis' average has been in the 380's—just a few percentage points above the bludgeoning Gehrig.

Travis has been a problem child to Owner Clark Griffith ever since he came up from Chattanooga of the Southern association in 1934.

"If He Could Field"

"If" Griffith often sighs as he talks of Cece, "if he could only field!"

Travis ranks among the poorest short fielders defensively, but tops them all at bat.

He came up as a third baseman. But he didn't seem to fit in there, and was tried at short. It was no go. Then he took a whirl at the outfield, but, as the baseball boys say, he played it something like a plumber.

Finally, in dire need of a shortstop, Griffith and Manager Bucky Harris elected to put Travis into the slot and let him muddle around, in hopes he might finally acclimate himself to the position.

There He Stayed

He's been there all season and, although he makes some fine plays that a fielding master would be proud of, it's always a gamble when a ball goes his way.

He hit just around .319 both of his previous full years in the big show. Travis never was a long hitter but is of the sharp hitting variety.

Buddy Myer, Washington's second sacker who won the 1935 batting championship, predicted a year ago that Travis would soon strike his top stride and lead the hit parade. The Georgian may bear out Myer's forecast.

About 200 million tons of coal are burned every year in the United Kingdom, of which 40 million tons are burned in domestic grates.

NOW: Simplified Rates on Classified Ads!

Effective now Hope Star is substituting a new and lightning-quick word-rate in place of the cumbersome old line-count method of figuring classified advertising charges.

HERE'S HOW—

For one time, simply multiply the number of words in your ad by 2 cents. The minimum charge is 30 cents.
For three times, simply multiply by 3 1/2 cents. The minimum is 50 cents.
For six times, multiply by 6 cents. Minimum 90 cents.
For one month (26 insertions) multiply by 18 cents. The minimum charge for a month is $2.70.

THE RATE'S THE SAME

There's no change in the rate—it has just been placed on a word basis for the public's convenience.

Note from the above schedule how the rate declines as the insertions increase. An ad run for a week (six times) costs 6 cents a word—only a penny a word a day.

Of course the ad must run consecutively—without a break.

HOW TO COUNT

In making your word-count, disregard the classification name such as "For Rent," "For Sale," etc.—this is free. But each initial or name, or complete telephone number, counts as a full word. Here's an example:

FOR RENT—Three-room modern furnished apartment, with garage, close in. Bargain. J. V. Blank, Phone 9999.
Total, 15 words, at 2 cents a word, a charge of 30 cents for one time; at 3 1/2 cents a word, a charge of 53 cents for three times, etc.

NOTE: All orders placed by telephone are due and payable upon presentation of bill.

Gunmen Liberate "Lifer" in Prison

Break Into Georgia Jail to Rescue Ex Alcatraz Prisoner

MARIETTA, Ga.—(AP)—A raid on the Cobb county jail by two gunmen who freed a life term convict and kidnapped the jailer furnished the latest development Tuesday in Georgia's prison troubles. The jailer, S. T. Huddleston, was released a few miles south of here.

Leo McIntosh, 35, the life term, recently was returned to Georgia from Alcatraz prison on the Pacific coast, where he served a five-year sentence for interstate transportation of a stolen car. Federal officers arrested him after he escaped from a Georgia chain gang in 1933 for the second time. He was sentenced to serve a life term for the slaying of E. B. Hogan in Macon in 1927.

Huddleston said the two gunmen took his keys early Tuesday and forced him to point out the cell of McIntosh, whom they released. McIntosh got into one car, Huddleston said, while he was forced into another.

Traffic Replaces Crime as Problem

Accidents Cost 3 Times as Much as Fire, 25 Times Theft

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—Ben Stroupe of the National Safety Council, said here Tuesday that traffic had replaced crime as the major problem of police in American cities.

"The day has come when crime is secondary in the problems of the police," Stroupe told the Memphis Police Academy. "Traffic comes first. The property loss in dollars and cents in our cities from traffic accidents is three to one compared with fire losses and 25 to one when compared to larceny losses.

"More people are being killed and injured in traffic crashes than by murder, suicide or assault and battery. The only way to reduce traffic accidents is to follow a program that calls for 15 traffic law convictions for every single personal injury case on the city streets."

Grazing Grains

Small grains for grazing may be planted earlier than when planted for grain production. There is a great need for winter pasture in Hempstead county as it lowers the feed costs of stock on the farm.

Any of the small grain crops may be planted in early September for pasture, according to L. A. Dhonau, assistant extension agronomist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture. However, soil adaptation should be considered when determining which one to use. The order in which crops stand in their requirements for good soil to make satisfactory growth is as follows: First, barley; second, oats; third, wheat; and fourth, rye.

The variety makes little difference when a crop is planted solely for grazing, Mr. Dhonau said. However, farmers sometimes plant grain with the intention of using the crop only for grazing, and then decide to save the crop for grain. If there is any doubt as to the utilization of the crop, the amount of seed planted for grazing should be heavier than for grain production. Mr. Dhonau told the county agent. A fair amount of seed per acre for each crop is: Oats, 10 to 12 pecks; barley, 7 to 8 pecks; wheat, 6 to 7 pecks; and rye, 4 to 6 pecks.

Seed Corn

The cornfield is the surest place in which to improve the producing power of seed corn. Although it is possible to improve seed corn by crib selection, field selection is more effective because in the field the farmer has the opportunity of considering the stalk and its location.

Field selection is especially important in improving prolific varieties, which usually yield better than one-ear varieties in the South. Some of the most important points to observe when selecting seed corn in the field are the following:

1. The yield of sound corn per plant.
  2. Both stalk and ear should be free from disease.
  3. The ears should have a good shuck covering.
  4. The shank should be 4 or 5 inches long, and slender enough to permit the ears to hang down.
- More ears should be selected than will be needed, so that undesirable ears may be discarded before planting, according to L. A. Dhonau, assistant extension agronomist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

Immediately after seed corn is taken from the field, it should be stored in a dry, well-ventilated place where it is protected from rats.

Aids Honolulu's Poor

HONOLULU.—(AP)—Trim, blue-eyed Winifred Murfin, daughter of Rear Admiral Orin G. Murfin, 14th naval district commandant, has turned her interest from Honolulu's ornate naval society to the peculiar family problems among Hawaii's poorer classes. Assigned to a vacancy in the social service bureau, Miss Murfin's task is rehabilitating the city's polyglot families. She regards it as "a novel, intriguing, challenging social situation."

She was trained in the Smith college school for social workers and has done welfare work in Springfield, Ill., Washington, D. C., and New Haven, Conn.

Teacher Catching Up on Baseball

Just to make sure she'll make no errors when the school boys play baseball, Miss Lucy Smoot has enrolled in the baseball course at Columbia University, New York City, the only woman among 100 men students. She really enjoys her work, too. Look how she smiles and applauds Lou Gehrig's home run while attending a "laboratory class" at Yankee Stadium.

Capture Government-Held Village in Strategic Advance

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier.—(AP)—The insurgent forces on the Teruel front east of Madrid Wednesday opened a new drive toward the headwaters of the Tagus river, pushing the government defenders from the village of Frias de Albarragin under heavy fire.

The government commanders acknowledged that their troops had evacuated the village after a desperate battle on the western edge of the salient that General Francisco Franco has thrust toward the communication lines connecting Madrid and Valencia.

Prairie Chicken in Texas Nearly Extinct

AUSTIN, Texas.—(AP)—Texas is trying to save the prairie chicken—finest of its game birds—from extinction. The chicken is a relative of the heath hen of the northwest whose last surviving member died two years ago.

The legislature has closed the season for five years. Hunters previously were permitted to shoot remnants of droves only four days a year. The state game department has been unsuccessful in its efforts to persuade the chicken to reproduce in captivity and is seeking other means to protect the species.

Experts attribute scarcity to environmental factors rather than hunters' guns.

Encroachment of oil developments and extensive irrigation farming in the south and droughts in the great plains region of the west have drastically reduced food and coverage areas for a bird which thrives only in wide open country.

Find Animal Life Near North Pole

Bears and Seals Observed by Russian Exploration Party

MOSCOW, Russia.—(AP)—Soviet polar campers reported Tuesday finding the top of the world unexpectedly populated with animal life. From a wide crack in the ice floe running past the door of their tent, a startled seal poked its head out of the water three times and stared at the campers.

The camp had a brief visit from a bear with two cubs. The animals took fright at the sight of the men, and lumbered away in full flight. Seagulls and guillemots frequently fly over the camp, the polar party reported, and jellyfish have been pulled up from a depth of 9,840 feet where there exists what scientists described as a "biological spring."

Big Family, Big Mind BERLIN.—(AP)—Big families produce big men. A nation populated with small families therefore has small chance of developing any great minds. So runs the "bigger and better family" argument assiduously propagated in Nazi Germany.

Charts have been prepared to show that the later children of a family seem to have a better chance of growing up into famous personages than do the first-born or second-born. For instance, it is pointed out, the artist Albrecht Duerer was his mother's third child; Frederick the Great was the fourth child in his family; Bismarck also was a fourth child. Among the great German composers, Bach was last in a family of eight children; Wagner last of nine, and Mozart last of seven.

Hot Weather is Here—Beware of Biliousness!

Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headache, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.

These are some of the more common symptoms or warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calomel, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts, combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. Trial package ten cents, family pkg., twenty-five cents. At drug stores. (Adv.)

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid into your bowels daily. If this bile isn't flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink. Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.
